

Jira is a comprehensive work management tool that allows users to harness an array of different workflows in order to complete their tasks. Although there are many different Jira uses, in this course we will be using Jira Software in conjunction with our program to create issues within Jira. This will allow team members to see what needs to be accomplished or finished and the pace at which those things need to happen.